The CCAWS March wine tasting will be at the home of Barb and Bill Brown on Sunday, April 15 at 2:00 pm.

Becky Wilson will present Wines We Cook With. It will be a food and wine tasting. Several of our members are preparing dishes with the wines we more often cook with than drink. We will be tasting a food then sampling the wine then taking a second bite to see if we really feel the wine translates in the food. As these are not the wines one normally pours a glass of we will be pouring smaller than the usual taste so we can try to use only one bottle of each. There will be both a red and white warm-up in large enough quantity for consuming afterwards. So That's the plan. Please call the Browns by April 11th if you would like to attend. Attendance for this tasting is limited. There are only a few slots left. Be sure you get confirmation before you attend.

Will also order case wine at same prices if ordered in advance of the sale and to be picked up that day. They are in the shopping center in Mt.Airy where Safeway is located.

- Lost and Found---Emily Johnston has several items that have been left at tastings:
 - Last Sunday: A woman's short coat, off-white, with a pair of sunglasses in one pocket and a tasting sheet from some wine tasting from the day before in the other.
 - Two plates:
 - One is clear glass with horses heads imprinted or etched onto it. Brownies were served on it.
 - The other is a heavy plate with a starburst pattern, also clear glass. This had phyllo dough triangular puffs on it.
 - Spode china plate with a brown print. This one has been traveling around for awhile.
